Picturesque Pack Trains Over Trails Will Soon Be Only A Memeory

Sale Of Corum Stables And Supply Train Marks End Of Romantic Era Here

SIERRA Madre's "burro days," when thousands of holiday-makers "packed in" over the old Wilson and Sturtevant Trails for weekend outings, were recalled by old-timers yesterday, following announcement last week of the sale of Mrs. Corum's home and stables in Sturtevant Canyon.

The city was pretty much of a "western" mountain town in those good old pre-war days, boasting probably more burro corrals to the square foot than any other town in the Southland, yet without one of the most peaceful and desirable of home communities in America.

Corrals had been maintained at the foot of the Wilson Trail almost from the time Don Benito Wilson chiseled the narrow thoroughfare out of the mountain-side back in the 1860's. The 7-mile trail was built to bring down Don Benito's coopers' timber from the mountains.

There were other corrals at the foot of Sturtevant Trail which led up to the hotel in Santa Anita Canyon established by Wilbur M. Sturtevant, after whom the trail was named.

Still other corrals were scattered throughout the town, along Central avenue and Baldwin avenue and clustered along Mountain Trail avenue, especially after the car line came in. Here on week-ends was a veritable beehive of activity as vacationists swarmed from the "trolley cars," hired their burros and departed up Mountain Trail avenue on two and three day camping trips.

Dudes and tenderfeet stopped at either the Santa Anita Canyon hotel or the Mt. Wilson hotel, but the majority of the trippers took their living quarters in with them, in the shape of pup tents and sleeping bags or were quartered in cabins at scores of camps scattered along the trails, mostly where there were streams or waterfalls. For food the camping hikers took along the regular staples—bacon, coffee and flour—and frequently baked their own bread in Dutch ovens at any one of a score of camps.

Many of these camps today are little more than memories. There was Carter's Camp in Little Santa Anita Canyon, operated by A. N. Carter from 1908 to 1910. There was Orchard Camp, run by Jim McNally, half way up the Wilson Trail. There was Hoegge's Camp, now known as Hoegge's Camp, lately conducted by "Billy" Murphy. There were many others, Fern Lodge, Valley Forge, Opid's, Gray's and more—some fully fledged camps, others hardly more than watering places. To many an old-timer their names today have a poignant, nostalgic ring—Pine Flats, Chislow, First Water, Chantry Flats, Sturtevant.

One of the largest burro corrals here was "Vint" Hoegge's at the foot of Wilson Trail. Hoegge also had a corral at the end of the car line, as did John Boyd, who at one time operated Fern Lodge, "Charlie" Chantry's corral also was on Mountain Trail avenue. "Mike" de Temple, now manager of Orchard Camp, had a corral about where the Woman's Clubhouse is now situated.

Other old-time pack train operators were George Carter, Lem Boardman, Jack Baird and Ben Rich, who at one time ran the Mt. Wilson Hotel.

Louis Newcomb, now living on West Grand View avenue, and "Will" Sturtevant, both of whom were pack train operators, built the Sturtevant Trail and opened Sturtevant Camp in 1894. Newcomb today recalls taking in, among other prominent visitors, the Shorbs and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, wife of the then-proprietor of the Palace Hotel at San Francisco.

Thanks to the burros there were few dull moments in those days.

Burro races were run on Thanksgiving Day back in 1908. They were run along Central avenue from Mountain Trail avenue to Baldwin avenue and back again and consisted of two events—one for speed and the other a "time killer." The boy who rode in last won. Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 were put up. It was a big event for the town's young "burro jockeys."

As time passed the burros became more a source of trouble than anything else.

Along about 1910 "Jim" McNally accused Chantry of inter-

Building On Upgrade As Strike Ends

Durham Plans New Homes
To Be Located On W. S.
Andrews Estate Here

Home construction, slowed up during the three-months maritime strike, slipped into high gear this week throughout Southern California.

Plans for new homes, delayed because of the interference of the strike with the transportation of building materials, are being hurriedly filled, and the temporary hampering construction boom promises to hit a brisker pace than ever before.

Reports from all parts of the Southland indicate a shortage of homes, particularly for people with moderate incomes. The marriage rate is increasing and new families need new homes, it is pointed out.

California real estate has almost reached boom proportions, the state real estate association asserts. There appears to be a definite trend towards home ownership and adequate funds are available for home financing and interest rates and service charges seem to remain relatively low. The real estate market is becoming stronger and stronger.

Prices of residential lots in the newer subdivisions have shown an average increase of from 5 to 15 per cent over former prices.

Evidence supporting these statements is the announcement that W. B. Durham, designer and builder, has just purchased part of the W. S. Andrews estate at West Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda Blvd. Durham will build two homes on the property. Plans are already drawn up for one of the homes, excavation for which got under way this week. Durham has just completed a home at 133 West Carter avenue for Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Murray of Long Beach.

The local Better Housing headquarters for this area, located in Monrovia city hall, reports keen interest on the part of the public in Federal housing insured mortgage system loans. Many interesting booklets on "How to have the house you want," "Modernize your home" and "Refinance your home" are available at the office.

New building permits have been issued to E. W. Reed, addition, 756 North Auburn; Mrs. Josephine Curtis, remodel, 50 West Mira Monte, and Dr. W. J. Barlow, garage, 675 West Highland.

All Art Shows To Be Held In Old Adobe

Artists Believe Little Gallery
At City Hall Has Seen
Last Of Exhibitions

Success of the "Old Adobe," hoped for nucleus of a new and greater art center here, appeared assured following the recent Gleb Derujinsky exhibition which attracted hundreds of art lovers from all over Southern California. More than a hundred persons attended the closing day of the show. Nearly all of them were from out of town. During the one-week show no less than 25 persons called daily at the "Old Adobe."

Scanning these figures, many Sierra Madreans yesterday predicted all local art exhibits in future would be shown at the "Old Adobe," rather than at the city hall.

They pointed out exhibits have been hung in the city hall largely for lack of any other quarters. Pictures hardly showed to best advantage against the walls of the council room, they asserted, with the result that while possibly 30 or 40 persons turned out for the first day of a show, few if any persons showed up on succeeding days.

The "Old Adobe" offers a first-rate setting for art shows, many people maintain. With it now available as a show room, it is predicted art exhibitions here will take a new lease on life.

"GAY HOLLYWOOD" PROVIDES GLAMOROUS THEME FOR 27TH NAT'L. ORANGE SHOW, SAN BERNARDINO

Featuring a dazzling decorative motif depicting the glamour and brilliance of "Gay Hollywood," this year's National Orange Show at San Bernardino February 18-23, will be the greatest exposition of its entire 27 years.

The huge Orange Show buildings have been transformed into a glamorous and spectacular

Hollywood stage setting. More than 70,000 square yards of expensive velours, satins and broadcloth were used in the decoration.

Seventeen cities, counties, communities and chambers of commerce will be represented in the feature section of the show.

Woman Critically Ill From Overdose Of Sedative

Suffering from an apparent overdose of elixir phenobarbital, Miss Mary E. O'Brien, 64, was rushed to the General hospital Wednesday afternoon in a critical condition.

The woman was found lying in a stupor in her apartment at the home of Dr. A. H. Brady, 129 Esperanza avenue.

Letters in her room indicated one of her relatives is Sister Bentilla at St. James Convent, Albany, N.Y.

The case was investigated by Chief McMillan and Dr. M. H. A. Peterson.

Hollywood Stars Twinkle In Benefit

Hollywood stage and screen luminaries unmindful of personal discomfort braved the almost record rain and slippery, treacherous highways to take part in a vaudeville show here Saturday night for the benefit of the homeless thousands in the flood stricken areas and through their unselfish efforts raised the sum of $260, which has been placed in the hands of the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross.

The audience voiced its appreciation of the various acts by its spontaneous applause and curtain calls were frequent. It was a corking good show and well worth many times the price. The idea of holding the benefit originated with Pat West, who through his wide acquaintance among theatrical folk secured the talent and then followed up by acting as master of ceremonies in his usual inimitable manner.

The high spot of the evening was reached when Miss Mozelle Britton was introduced. She is the wife of Alan Dinehart, famous character actor screen star. Dinehart had promised to come to Sierra Madre but was obliged to work at his studio and Mrs. Dinehart made the trip alone to represent him and to do her bit, if asked. She is an accomplished pianist and played two classical numbers, then she returned to take a bow so vociferous was the applause. Mrs. Dinehart wore a stunning silver colored gown and her personality made a tremendous hit.

Sponsors of the benefit included every club and service organization in Sierra Madre. The acts were varied and entertaining. Pat West announced that a number of screen stars had telephoned they were unable to make the trip, and expressed keen regrets.

With the exception of Princess Toy, a Chinese girl from the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu, none of the artists appeared in costume, wearing street apparel, but this made no difference. They put out plenty and provided a most enjoyable evening for the customers.

Following the vaudeville show there was a dance in the Woman's clubhouse where most of the younger set rounded out the evening.

Allen-Neale Realty Firms Consolidated

Circulate Petitions To Have
New Subdivision Taken Off Local Phone Exchange

Announcement was made yesterday of the consolidation of the real estate and insurance businesses of City Judge Tom W. Neale and Mrs. Cecily A. Allen. The consolidation became effective at noon and transfers Mrs. Allen's real estate and insurance business to Judge Neale, who will continue to operate the consolidated business at 86 West Sierra Madre Blvd., opposite the City Hall.

In announcing the sale of her business to Judge Neale Mrs. Allen said yesterday it is probable she will enter a more specialized type of business in the future, along the line of property development.

"Judge Neale needs no recommendation as a real estate and insurance man will carry on the business with his customary efficiency," Mrs. Allen said.

Women Told Of Freak Acts In Assembly

Curious Proposals And Class Interest Predominates At Sacramento

"It's a shame to clutter up the legislature with bills that fill two volumes each two feet thick," Assemblyman Frank G. Martin said Tuesday noon in a discussion of tax measures and bills before the Legislature, at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club.

Nearly 4000 bills were introduced at the recent preliminary session of the legislature, the assemblyman said. A total of 2785 were introduced in the Assembly and 1074 in the Senate. One man alone, he said, introduced no less than 63 bills. Mr. Martin's own record was an even half-dozen bills.

One senator is sponsoring a bill to paint school buses red, white and blue, the speaker said. Another legislator wants to stage a national egg-laying contest. Still another seeks to prohibit persons from keeping animals and poultry in apartments and rooming houses.

Pointing out that 30 race track bills were introduced, Mr. Martin said he saw "no reason for half a dozen tracks in Los Angeles county. Let's have only one, regulate it right and the rest of the year give the merchants a chance to make a little money."

A total of 30 liquor control bills went in the hopper, he said, pointing out that "the problem remains the same no matter what the control is. You can't change human nature," he added, significantly.

More social welfare bills were introduced than at any previous session, he declared. They dealt

Scenic Point Will Be Veritable Wonderland For Wistaria Fete

Greatest Of All Fetes Is Planned

Wistaria Association Opens
Office At City Hall With Staff At Work

City hall callers are expressing surprise at the hustle and bustle around the seat of local government these days.

Instead of the customary genteel silence there's a wild clatter of typewriters, periodic outbursts of light-hearted banter and a general scurrying about that has even the police department ducking for cover on occasion.

Source of the activity can be traced to a little room off Al S. Myers' office where Mrs. Grace Caukin and Mrs. Alyce Anderson are working like the proverbial beavers from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It's the headquarters of the newly-organized Wistaria Association.

Grinding out publicity "copy" at a rate that would put professional stenographers to shame, the two women are seeing to it that the association "goes to town" with a vengeance.

They even think twice before taking time out for lunch, so eager are they to keep the ball rolling and accomplish at least two days' work every day.

But they're far from being a pair of human machines. Only Myers, who couldn't get away for lunch due to press of business, expressed himself as feeling a little hungry. It was 3 o'clock in the afternoon, but Mrs. Caukin immediately jumped up from her typewriter and threatened to brew the city manager a cup of tea in spite of his protestations. And she even offered to put up part of a box of cookies toward the impromptu snack.

With the association's business in such capable hands as Mrs. Caukin and Mrs. Anderson, it won't be their fault if the city's Wistaria Fete this year isn't the success everybody knows it's bound to be.

At the daily luncheon meetings of the Wistaria Association in the Coffee Shop at the Sierra Madre Hotel it has been arranged that members of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club will serve afternoon tea under the pergolas at the vine during the Fete, while the St. Rita's Altar Society, under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Evans, will again handle the candy booth.

The association has also acquired 18 rose bushes of different varieties. These will be planted on the inside of the wall where they will show off to best advantage in combination with the delicate-hued lavender of the vine's blossoms.

Meanwhile members of the Wistaria Association and committees representing the city's various civic organizations are now meeting daily at the Sierra Madre Hotel Coffee Shop from 12:15 to 1:30 p.m. for luncheon and discussion of plans and progress of the forthcoming Fete.

Nation-wide publicity is already being given the 1937 Wistaria Fete.

This month's issue of "The Earth," published monthly by the Santa Fe Lines, and circulated throughout the 12 states served by the railroad, carries an illustrated feature article on the vine and the city's annual feature.

The 12-page publication, lavishly illustrated, is distributed roadside in Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Headed "Sierra Madre's Wistaria Fete Draws Crowds," the article continues:

One of the outstanding events in Southern California is the Wistaria Festival which is held in Sierra Madre each spring in March or April. The festival has been an annual feature since 1913, and has attracted more than 500,000 visitors.

The world famous Wistaria vine, under which the festival is held, is probably the most gorgeous bower of flowery loveliness found in the Western Hemisphere. It was planted in the spring of 1893, by Mrs. W. F. Brugman, then owner of what is now the estate of Mrs. Estelle H. Fennel. Henry T. Fennel purchased the property in 1913, at which time he and his family made it their residence. Care of the vine became a hobby with him until his death in 1925.

Sierra Madre is a quiet but delightful little city nestling at the foot of Mt. Wilson, near Pasadena. It is in a frostless belt, and flowers, gardens and subtropical fruits flourish out-of-doors throughout the year. The city's charm as a place in which to live has attracted many famous people, including groups of talented writers, artists and musicians.

Chief of Police Decker said that court action has established that the forcing of a person from one room to another is kidnapping. As all of the victims, including Pulling, were forced into lavatories and then slugged, the bandits can be tried under the kidnapping act.

Had the two sluggers attempted to "work" any service stations here, police would have tendered them a warm reception. Officers with sawed-off shotguns were staked out all week at the four local service stations. Their instructions were "Shoot to kill—and talk afterward."

hook-up of these new business prospects through their own exchange, but chamber of commerce officials here are planning to file a protest with the railroad commission immediately.

Some Sierra Madre merchants are wholeheartedly behind the Chamber in its effort to nip the secession movement in the bud.

Brand New Setting For Famous Vine As Improvements Progress

SCENIC Point, site of the city's annual Wistaria Fete, is having its face lifted!

A lot of things are happening up on the former Fennel estate, and out-of-town sightseers are going to get an eye-ful when spring rolls around and the 1937 Fete gets under way. Even Sierra Madreans are going to be surprised beyond words.

Gone is the old two-story clapboard house, its bilious yellow walls mercifully three quarters hidden each spring by the vine's lacy blooms and foliage.

Rising Phoenix-like from its foundations is a quarter acre of pergolas, supporting a gigantic living canopy—the vine itself.

Painted a glistening white, the arbors will provide a perfect background for the vine's delicate-hued loveliness. They'll also screen off the warm California sunshine from the strolling and dining visitors at Fete time.

Leading up from the main dining pavilion is a series of terraces. These later will be planted with grass and provide additional space for out-of-doors dining.

Topping the estate and overlooking the entire San Gabriel Valley is the indoors dining room, the south side glassed off for observation purposes and to allow diners to "take in" Scenic Point's spring "wonderland" at a glance. A commodious fireplace in the north wall will banish the chill of California evenings or north winds.

This new dining room occupies the site of the old one-story building, which has been moved back against the north line of the property. It will be used as a "hostess" house.

Along with the general revamping of Scenic Point the vine itself has been thoroughly pruned as well as rearranged on the pergolas so as to show off its fairy-like blooms to best advantage during the Fete. Work of fertilizing the vine was completed some weeks ago.

The Wistaria Association has just purchased 25 flowering peach trees which will be planted along the east and south walls at Scenic Point.

The association has also acquired 18 rose bushes of different varieties. These will be planted on the inside of the wall where they will show off to best advantage in combination with the delicate-hued lavender of the vine's blossoms.

Meanwhile members of the Wistaria Association and committees representing the city's various civic organizations are now meeting daily at the Sierra Madre Hotel Coffee Shop from 12:15 to 1:30 p.m. for luncheon and discussion of plans and progress of the forthcoming Fete.

HISTORICAL DRAMA AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Pasadena again claimed the largest beam from the spotlight of Western theatrical events when "Murder in the Cathedral" received its Pacific Coast premiere at the Community Playhouse on Tuesday evening.

T. S. Eliot's famous play, a smash hit of international proportions, deals in stark and stirring terms with the deliberate and awesome murder of Thomas A. Becket, 12th Century Archbishop of Canterbury. It will run until February 20.

Sierra Madreans To Address Pasadena Flower Lovers

Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Perley Poore Sheehan will address a panel-discussion meeting of the Pasadena Flower Show Association at the Pasadena Public Library next Friday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be open to the public and amateur gardeners are cordially invited.

Mrs. Lawless will discuss the Wistaria Fete. Mr. Sheehan will be in general charge of the meeting.

Benefits which may come to gardens because of the recent cold weather will be the general topic to be considered with special reference to the preparation of garden material for the association's spring show.

The meeting has been arranged especially for the amateur gardener who does his own work. If the speakers fail to speak of his special problems, he is invited to ask questions. The general idea is to replace the damage done to shrubs and gardens by the unheard of continued cold spell that burned thousands of gardens black and left areas looking dismal and unhappy where everything had been colorful and gay.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys

THERE will be much hand shaking and back slapping tonight when the firemen meet at the station for the regular drill and meeting, for we have just ended a "three-weeker." Not having had a fire call nor an occasion for a meeting, most of the fellows have stayed in close to their own hearths for the past three weeks. Marion Hays, however, almost lived near the station and on the streets during the recent heavy rain storms.

Since the capture of the "slugger-bandits" by Pasadena police, the local men are resting much easier. They have been on special duty for many nights at different sections of the city during the reign of terror caused by these criminals.

Not long ago, Harlan Gerlach was on traffic duty, when a movie scene was being taken within our city limits. A very pretty lady—not too old—failed to stop until Harlan ran in front of her automobile.

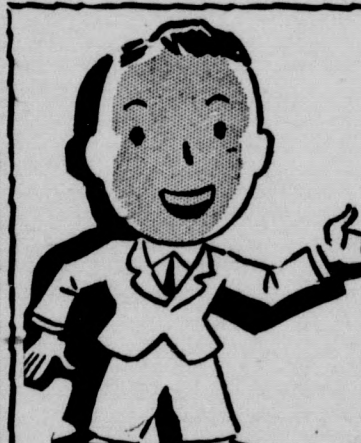

"Don't you know what I mean when I hold up my hand?" asked Gerlach.

"I ought to," answered the lady. "I taught school for a number of years." And Jim Heasley who was nearby yelled to Harlan, "I guess that will excuse you for a while."

Fire's out.

First Classes In Sign Writing And Cartooning Start

The first lesson in cartooning and sign writing at the Sierra Madre school began on Tuesday under the tutelage of Roger Armstrong.

These classes are free to adults and children and are held every Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the board room. Mr. Armstrong uses a simple, unique method of instruction, insuring benefit to even the most unskilled. Everyone is welcome.

Latest Addition To Business District Is Liquor Store

The latest addition to Sierra Madre's business district is a retail liquor store, which opened Monday at 12 West Sierra Madre Blvd. The store is known as "Happy's Liquor Store" and is owned and operated by Leo Mendel who has been engaged in this line of business since the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Mendel owns similar stores in Monrovia and Alhambra.

Dead Air Pilot Worked With West In Movie Flicker

A. R. (Tommy) Thompson, pilot of the United Air Lines plane that plunged into San Francisco Bay shortly before 9 o'clock Tuesday night, was a close friend of Pat West, secretary of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce.

"Tommy was a great stunt flyer," West said. "He worked off and on in pictures as a stunt flyer before taking a job as pilot with United. I worked with him in scenes in his last picture, 'Ceiling Zero.' He was a great guy."

In a Social Way

LESTER FENNEL WEDS SAN FRANCISCO GIRL

A WEDDING of interest to many Sierra Madreans was announced this week, when Lester Haines Fennel was united in marriage to Miss Jeanette Veronica Fucillo, daughter of Anthony Fucillo, of San Francisco. The ceremony was performed Saturday afternoon at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco with only close relatives and friends of the bride and groom present.

The bride was attired in a lovely white silk evening gown trimmed with silver sequins. Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Berkeley, close friends of the bride and groom were the only attendants.

Mr. Fennel is the son of Mrs. Estelle Fennel, former owner of the giant Wistaria estate, and is associated with the Pan-American Airways, as meteorologist, making test flights in and out of Alameda in his capacity as weather forecaster for the airline.

A dinner and reception in the Persian Room of the Drake hotel followed the ceremony. The couple left Sunday evening for Palm Springs on their honeymoon trip and will be at the home of Mrs. Estelle Fennel in Los Angeles this (Friday) evening. A reception is being given Saturday evening by Miss Viola Fennel, sister of the groom, honoring the newly married couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Fennel will then return to Alameda to reside until about March 1, when they will depart for Manila on the China Clipper for a three year sojourn. Mr. Fennel's work will consist of keeping pilots informed of weather conditions between the islands and Guam.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. R. C. Lewis entertained informally Tuesday afternoon with a luncheon at her home, Bella Vista Terrace. Guests included Mrs. S. B. Echlin and Mrs. L. Johnson of Los Angeles, and Miss Mary Barker of Janesville, Wisconsin, who is spending the winter in California.

A valentine party, from 4 until 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon has been arranged by the Junior Music Club at the home of Mrs. Edna Croan, 304 W. Sierra Madre

Cheyney Twins Will Celebrate Their Eighth Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cheyney's twin boys, Ralph and Trent, will be eight years old next Friday, February 19.

They were born in Chicago, first saw the light of day at 3 a.m. and opened their eyes on what was one of the coldest days in the Windy City's history. Two hours before their birth Mrs. Cheyney was going over the final proofs of one of her books.

The Cheyneys plan to take the boys to Los Angeles for dinner and to a show afterwards.

BEERY AND ROBSON AT ARCADIA THEATRE

"Old Hutch," starring Wallace Beery, and "Rainbow on the River," with May Robson, Chas. Butterworth and Louise Beavers, are showing today and tomorrow at Gillette's Arcadia Theatre.

Opening Sunday and showing through Tuesday is "Winterset," the film version of Maxwell Anderson's New York stage hit, with Burgess Meredith, Margo and Eduardo Cienfuegos. On the same bill is "Easy to Take," featuring Marsha Hunt, Eugene Pallette and John Howard.

Coming Wednesday is Shirley Temple in "Stowaway" and Warner Oland and Boris Karloff in "Charley Chan and the Opera." The bill closes Saturday night.

"ONE IN A MILLION" AT THE LYRIC THEATRE

"One in a Million," starring Sonja Henie, world-famous ice skater, opens today at the Monrovia Lyric Theatre. The supporting cast includes Alice Faye, Adolphe Menjou, Ned Sparks and the Ritz Brothers.

On the same bill is "Great Guy," starring James Cagney and Mae Clark. Fans will remember Cagney and Miss Clark as the stars of "Public Enemy," the gangster opus of several seasons back. In "Great Guy" Cagney sides with the law, playing a U.S. government inspector.

DRAMA GUILD GO-GETTERS WILL ELECT OFFICERS

The presentation of a dialogue "I Give Up," by Doris Pickett and Dorothy Hogan, featured the evening program of the Go-Getters Group held at the City Park house, Friday evening. Ivan Karloff, instructor of the Academy of the Dance was a guest of the club. Election of new officers will be held at the next regular meeting Friday evening.

Junior Women Will Aid Flood Victims By Dance Proceeds

A donation of 25 per cent of the proceeds netted from the dessert-bridge, sponsored by the Junior Women tonight at the Woman's clubhouse will be given to the Red Cross for the benefit of the Ohio and Mississippi valley flood sufferers.

Dessert will be served beginning at 8 o'clock and tables will be arranged for bridge and 500 immediately following the dessert. The public is cordially invited to attend. Reservations for the evening may be secured by telephoning Miss Eleanor Phillips, 119-1 or Mrs. William Schwartz, 214-3.

The dinner-dance announced to be held at the Santa Anita Inn Saturday evening, February 20 has been changed to one week later, Saturday evening of the 27th. Dinner will be served at 9 o'clock.

VERNON UDELLS HAVE A YOUNG SON

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Udell, 196 Santa Anita Court, are the parents of a son, born Saturday February 6.

No Apostrophe Here; H. B. Cant Will Be Legion Adjutant

H. B. Cant was elected adjutant of the America Legion Post, when the group met Monday evening for its regular "crab" session at which those present had an opportunity to voice their opinion on questions at hand. Other officers appointed were Harold Roberts as chairman of the Americanism committee with Mrs. Leila Roberts and R. O. Caukin. Mrs. Dona Robertson was elected historian, replacing Jack Mitchell. It was also decided that sons of the Legion would not be organized this year.

Sunday morning a 9 o'clock breakfast will be served at the Legion clubhouse in Azusa for the Americanism and publicity chairmen of the 18th district and their committees.

HUMPHRIES MAKING A GOOD RECOVERY

W. R. Humphries, former longtime Sierra Madiran and now living in Arcadia, returned to his home yesterday from a Los Angeles hospital where, for two weeks, he had been recuperating from a major operation.

Announcement

By Tom W. Neale

Effective this date I have bought and assumed control of the real estate and insurance business heretofore conducted by Mrs. C. A. Allen at 18 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, adding to my strong list of insurance agencies the biggest and most reliable of the great companies until now represented in this community by Mrs. Allen.

I have assumed personal charge of and will devote my entire time and attention to the insurance feature of the consolidated business, so that my clients—new and old—will have the benefit of my long experience in writing all kinds of insurance. It will be a major feature of the business—not a sideline.

I have appointed Mr. Joe T. Russell to take charge of the real estate and rental departments and he will specialize in this particular line, giving our clients the benefit of his knowledge of local real estate values. He will be glad to list your property and has many inquiries for homes here.

Better let me inquire into your insurance coverage and needs and advise you . . . No obligation on your part.

THERE MUST BE A WAY

Surely a government that has assumed so many other responsibilities can find a way to stop the epidemic of strikes that menace the social and economic welfare of the Nation. They are an intolerable threat to progress and security. In addition to the frightful economic loss they entail, they are gnawing at the very vitals of law and order, creating disrespect for all laws and exalting mob violence. A government that feels itself strong enough to determine the size of the Nation's crops, the number of hogs that may be raised and generally undertake regulation of economic conditions should feel itself strong enough to outlaw strikes—make them a high crime. It should certainly be possible under the law to create some unbiased agency or tribunal, 100 per cent divorced from politics, that could pass upon disputes between the employer and employee, with the assurance that public opinion and the government would stand behind its findings.

It will take years to fully recover from the disastrous effects of the great maritime strike, happily now ended. The West coast generally and California particularly have suffered frightfully and almost every line of business in the country has been made to help bear the burden of the unparagonably lawless sit-down nonsense the government is permitting to go on in plants of the General Motors corporation.

Worse than the financial loss, staggering as it is, these strikes have encouraged others in which wages, working conditions and hours of labor were not in question. They have bred intolerance, disorder, and flaunted the basic idea that the government is pledged to protect life and property.

General Motors employees lost approximately $6,156,661 in wages up to January 15, the computation being made on the basis of a daily average loss of $7 to each workman. At the same time the sit-down strikers were estimated in an unofficial survey by the Associated Press to have cost the company and the employees close to $10,000,000. Every community in which there has been a strike has suffered from the stoppage of wages.

Advertising schedules have been extensively canceled. Nearly 10 per cent of the Nation's cotton crop in 1935 was lost to motor vehicle manufacturing use. Thirty-one per cent of leather produced; 40 per cent of the mohair; 51,000,000 pounds of hair and padding, and tremendous quantities of flaxseed, linseed oil, soy beans, animal fat, corn, sugar cane, wool, canvas, felt—all of which are farm products, lost to the great automobile market while the industry is tied up by strikes. Farmers, of course, are badly hit by cancellation of orders for these materials, even though they do not sell direct to the industry.

In every community of our broad land there are General Motors dealers and a wide variety of business establishments and individuals directly affected by the strike—and thus the damage spreads until it affects, in some way or another, the affairs of a very large part of the whole American public.

Only a fraction of those who are denied employment in the factories in Michigan, Ohio, New York, New Jersey, California, Illinois, Maryland, Missouri, Tennessee, Indiana, Wisconsin, Georgia and other states have any dispute with the employers. Very unjustly they are drawn into the strike.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

SIERRA MADRE, Barbizon—Barbizon, Sierra Madre. Let's get the hook-up lodged firmly in our minds. Because, honestly, we think there is an idea here that may prove stimulating to that new Chamber of Commerce of ours. Barbizon's about the size of Sierra Madre. It lies at the same distance from Paris that we do from Los Angeles. And as for transportation, say! If our P.E. and the Barbizon outfit met, they'd kiss each other as members of the same family, practically twins. But here's the point: Barbizon has at least five good hotels—all of them flourishing, one of them downright swell. With guests who come back year after year; yet, having come, never leave. Yet Barbizon has no Chamber of Commerce. It never did have. Then, how come?

WE got to thinking about this the night we went down to the Woman's Club and saw that beautifully put-on play, "The Late Christopher Bean." First, because of Corot (ko-ro). For, as you recollect, that poetic and superb painter of landscapes was, himself, a sort of French Christopher Bean. Unappreciated until he was dead. When, all of a sudden, the price of his work went sky-rocketing. Then, his paintings multiplying too. So fast and inexhaustibly, in fact, that there began to be a legend that the great Corot couldn't be dead, after all. Until they discovered that there was a poor devil—now the slave of a master-mind—who could paint "Corots" as good as Corot himself ever did. And a good deal faster.

BUT to get back. Corot starving in a Paris attic. And others like him. Yet with a hunger in their hearts greater than their hunger for bread. It was a hunger for beauty with a capital: Beauty! So they drifted out in search of it. How they ever happened to pick on Barbizon no one knows. Paris is surrounded by old and beautiful forests, as all our former doughboys will recall—forming the exterior military zone of Paris, as the French army chiefs call it: Vincennes, Meudon, St. Germain, Fontainebleau, and so on. Barbizon is in the Forest of Fontainebleau, not very far from the city of Fontainebleau itself. But—at the time we're writing about—sleepy, Peaceful. Backward. And Beautiful. Just like Sierra Madre.

BUT Sierra Madre, as it is today, has a hundred years start on Barbizon—was Barbizon was when Corot went there. We have our Wistaria Vine. We have Mr. Dewey's art center. We have the Old Barn. And the occasional fine exhibits of paintings that Mr. Morse puts on for us in the City Hall. We have our whole colony of artists and writers. We were down at the Eakmans' the other evening, for example, and the display of talent there—in music, dancing, poetry and the appreciation of these—was an inspiration. But in that early Barbizon, none of this. Just peasants and bourgeois. Mildly shocked and more than mildly suspicious—when the artists came. Des artists! They haven't even any baggage. Starvelings! What are they good for!

WELL, who were some of these starvelings—besides the angelic Corot. There was, for example, Millet—whose "Angelus" was to become what is, perhaps, the most popular picture ever painted; and whose "Man With The Hoe" was to become such a key break for our own Edwin Markham. Then, there was Daubigny, Ziem, Diaz, William Morris Hunt; and a crowd of others—founders and formers of what is known today throughout the whole world of art as "the Barbizon School." Also, lest we forget, that droll, gangling, young Scotch good-for-nothing, Robert Louis Stevenson. And what a nut he was! Long hair. A velvet coat. For loafers like him have always had a weakness for artists, and artists for them;

GAMBLING LEGISLATION HOLDS ATTENTION OF SOLONS AT SACRAMENTO

By Ralph Taylor
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

DUE to the lack of a dramatic cause, or a spectacular controversy, the 52nd California State Legislature may go down in the annals of history "unwept, unhonored and unsung!" As the public views it, little of the legislation thus far proposed is of vital import. For the most part, it represents all of the "finished business" of bygone, busier sessions, together with a flood of post-depression bills, some of real importance, perhaps, but few that will linger in public memory.

Out of the muck of miscellaneous legislation, however, may come constructive action on myriad lesser issues which, taken together, might have real bearing on the welfare of California agriculture, business and industry—if the legislature is content to do an uninteresting job wisely and well!

Gambling legislation promises to occupy much of the lawmakers' time. Literally scores of bills—prohibiting, legalizing and licensing dog racing, bookmaking, horse racing, etc., legalizing slot machines and banning slot machines; setting up a state lottery and licensing pin games—are awaiting consideration. Both numerically—and in their public possibilities—the gambling bills seem to be "tops" this session, with liquor legislation, almost as varied, as runner-up.

Delving into human relations, there are bills to abolish the so-called "gin marriage law," requiring a three-day wait before issuance of a marriage license; bills reducing the one-year inter-lucutory divorce period to nine months, and even three months, after the fashion in Reno; bills outlawing breach of promise and "heart balm" suits; bills adding insanity and incompatibility as grounds for divorce, and several measures requiring physical examinations before the issuance of marriage licenses.

Under the general heading of labor and social legislation, there are bills to establish a 30-hour week in industry, bills which would create labor meditation boards to handle strike problems, measures which would prohibit interference with the orderly movement of food products and drugs during strikes, acts to require employers to carry the entire burden of social security legislation, the "veteran" short-train bill and measures upping pensions for the blind and aged from $35 to $50 per month.

Measures designed to free Tom Mooney and to repeal the criminal syndicalism act, together with anti-"spotter" legislation and measures prohibiting anti-picketing ordinances, are among the other labor-sponsored bills.

On two matters of considerable importance, the Legislature took final action during the January session. First, it passed a permanent "in lieu" tax on automobiles—a measure desired particularly by the city districts. Until July 1, 1939, the state will receive 62 1/2 per cent of the revenue from the "in lieu" tax; after that date, the state will receive 20 per cent after payment of state highway bond interest and redemption and cost of collection—the counties and cities the balance.

Second in importance in the measures given final passage during the first half of the session was a bill extending the moratorium on mortgage and chattel mortgage foreclosures from February 1 to July 1. This bill was finally passed over the vigorous protest of a group of senators who served notice that they would oppose all further moratorium proposals.

Persons arrested for drunken driving on the highways of California during September were nearly twice that of any month in State's history. Of the 3112 persons arrested for driving while intoxicated, 3072 were convicted.

Young America, seeking its life work, has a far greater selection of the young Americans of bygone generations. A more recent survey has determined that there are 7,300 gainful occupations in the United States; 30 years ago there were only 1,800.

There has been much objection recently—and without justification—to the fact that artists and sculptors, when they portray historical groups of early California, invariably give greatest prominence to miners, gamblers, dance hall girls and vigilantes. A more representative group might include Anza, the explorer; Portola, discoverer of San Francisco Bay; Father Serra, builder of the Missions, and General Fremont, the American.

They're going to fight forest fires with dry ice this summer, if the board of supervisors heed the request of Fire Warden Spencer Turner and allow him to experiment with a dry ice apparatus which has been adopted by the Federal foresters at San Diego headquarters. Mixing the frozen carbon dioxide gas with water in airtight tanks provides a high pressure stream of water from a fire hose that requires no pumping.

and both, oddly enough, a certain coyness toward—Chambers of Commerce.

BUT, gee! Wouldn't we love to have a Robert Louis Stevenson here in Sierra Madre with us today? Or a Corot? Or a Millet? Well, maybe we have. Or will have. And we're glad that our Chamber of Commerce has expressed its faith (or at least its hope) that this is so. By its appointment of an Arts and Crafts Committee. By its invitation to Mr. Dewey to head such a group. Maybe—who knows?—the leaders of our present Commercial Renaissance have also been thinking of Barbizon, with its flourishing hotels. Beattified, each one of those hotels with sketches and finished works of artists who've passed that way. And solvent worshippers still crowding in.

ALTHOUGH, of course, Barbizon's case is not unique. The same thing has happened elsewhere—thousands of times: Woodstock, Pleasantville, Provincetown, Carmel, Laguna Beach, Cucun. Artists have no money. But whether they go there money followeth. The Chamber of Commerce that captures—and keeps—one artist for its town is greater even than one that bringeth in a factory. Any day! No Chamber of Commerce could do for a town what Corot and his fellows did for Barbizon. No, nor what Mr. Dewey and his friends may do for Sierra Madre.

Gaddin' Around with BILL PEET

SIERRA MADREANS who love flowers and shrubs, who take a delight and pride in their gardens, giving plants their personal care and attention have just started to take stock and find out exactly how severe and devastating was the recent freeze that raised so much havoc among the citrus fruit and avocado orchards.

"I dread to look at my garden—I hate to think what I will find," cried one of my neighbors. "I've been putting off this sad task as long as possible, but its got to be done."

Many Sierra Madre gardens withstood the shock of the freezing weather bravely, but others were not so lucky. Most of the semi-tropical flowers and banana trees were killed.

From my bedroom window on East Grand View a single stalk of poinsettia blossomed in all of its glory. I saw it every morning and marvelled that it kept alive as the orchard heaters were going full blast and from the valley below and black smoke clouds obscured everything from view. But that single stalk of poinsettia kept its head up defying the freeze. I rejoiced and let out a cheer, the way I used to when some guy hit a home run with the bases loaded.

I bragged about that poinsettia bloom to my friends. I felt sure it would stand the gaff, but the last cold morning I saw the bloom had flopped and drooped down the stalk. I am not as a rule sentimental but somehow or other the sight got my goat—it was like nursing a sick friend, watching him win his fight to live and then suffer a relapse and pass on. The following day the weather moderated and had my poinsettia been able to keep going a few more hours, everything would have been fine and dandy.

The sale of the Corum estate, as told in THE NEWS last week, which marked the passing over a period of two decades of virtually the last important link between the old days and the present must have caused many of our old residents to reminisce and suffer feelings of sadness as they recalled the days of pack trains on our two principal mountain trails.

I have never seen a pack train nor climbed a mountain trail, but there must be many wonderful sights and thrills one cannot get from looking out the window of an automobile.

I am surprised that a little imagination has not painted a word picture of mountain trails right here in Sierra Madre—pack trains going out into the Sierra Madre a bare 15 miles from the heart of the greatest city on the Pacific Coast.

I have discovered that the quickest way to get your mail from Lamanda Park (3 miles distant) is to call for it in person rather than depend upon the post office department; that is if you are in a great hurry for a letter. Here's the answer: A letter dropped into the Lamanda Park post office is first sent to the Pasadena post office, and from there to the Los Angeles post office where it is tossed into a sack of Sierra Madre mail and sent to the Santa Fe terminal. It comes then via Santa Fe to Santa Anita station where local post office employees pick up the sack and bring it by automobile to Mr. Calkin's station here for distribution.

It so happens that Sierra Madre has no direct postal service from Lamanda Park, the mail comes by way of Cape Horn, and apparently nothing can be done about it.

TOWN PICKUPS

Those of us who attended church Sunday discovered that Lent opened last Wednesday (Ash Wednesday). . . . Rain put something of a damper on the benefit show for the Flood relief Saturday night, but the attendance was surprisingly large and the show really good—worth anyone's while. . . . Rollin C. Lewis, new president of Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, has started off on the right foot and things are moving. He not only believes in doing things but does them. . . . Our townsfolk have a right to throw out their chests when Red Cross appeals are made, or when some one is twinking. . . . Did you ever see Harvey Steinberger's collection of gourds? He's a good collector but a poor distributor and has a bum memory. . . . Pat West started work last week on one of the Hollywood lots. . . . Ask him to tell you his latest story. . . . "Dead Eye" Fred LaLone, the mighty deer stalker, has a new nickname—"One Punch Freddy". . . . Here's a chance for a song writer to dedicate a ditty to the orange growers of this sector, words and music to the title "Keep the smudge pots burning". . . . Valentine's Day is just around the corner. Remember the old time comics? . . . I'll bet Joe Sadler does. . . . Do you also remember when A. B. Murphy owned and operated "Dad's Service Station"? . . . Fritz Richter says he would walk ten miles to see a good soccer football game that far, if he played 90 minutes of hard soccer. . . . ADIOS—I'll be seen' you.

LETTERS From Readers

ABOUT PENSIONS

To the Editor of the Sierra Madre News:

If I am not mistaken, one of the reasons the Supreme Court declared the NRA unconstitutional, was, it took from one class of citizens and gave to another. The law, they tell us, that favors one class of citizens above another is class legislation, therefore unconstitutional. I heard one of those same Supreme Judges over the radio a few days ago talking in defense of a pension for their own members when they retire.

I wonder how they are going to legalize a pension for themselves without including other aged for a like amount. Wherever the money comes from to pay them a pension, would it not be just as legal to get the money from the same source to pay a pension to other aged? If not, why not? Are the judges of the Supreme Court any more necessary to civilization than the members of any other necessary activity? Are they any more necessary than the building trades, the transportation, the utility lines, the merchants, or the ones who dig your sewers? If we had no one to build our houses, truck our groceries and produce, we would have little use for the Supreme Court.

The government voted to give Mrs. Coolidge a pension of $5000 per annum. Is she who has lived in plenty and who has had many of the luxuries, any more entitled to a pension than the aged widow who raised her orphaned children to honorable citizenship, and perhaps outlived them all? The Constitution says all men are born free and equal, but in practice they do not believe it. The very ones that are so intent on preserving the Constitution, propose themselves a pension.

STRIKE A NEW CHORD

To the Editor of The Sierra Madre News.

In all probability there is no more apt quotation in its application to Sierra Madre, than the well known passage from Alice in Wonderland—"The time has come the Walrus said, to talk of many things—"

Like the Walrus, we as residents have come to a realization that a little action is necessary before we can honestly point with pride to our accomplishments and sit back with the smug complacency that comes to those who have completed a job and can call it well done.

Resolutions are interesting documents but with real resolution behind them they take rank with the German Treaty and have exactly the same value. While I thoroughly subscribe to the prevailing sentiment that Sierra Madre should be kept a home community, I would like to point out that the merchants of even a home community are not in business for their health and can not operate profitably, if because of a comparatively small volume of business they are unable to offer competitive prices.

Therefore the first step toward a solution of Sierra Madre's business problem is to devise ways and means that will increase the population of the city to the point where the community has a purchasing power of sufficient volume to enable the local merchant to hold the normal balance of trade at home and imbue the merchant with the will to go after it.

In the background, however, there lurks a specter that is pre-

Quick Picking Will Save Many Avocados Believed Lost

In attempting to help avocado growers save all marketable fruit before they fall to the ground from the slightly frosted stems, both packing houses of the Calavo Growers of California are working day and night.

Research by Dr. F. F. Hanna of UCLA, State and county standardization officials has revealed that considerably more fruit is marketable than first estimated. However, these fruit on partially killed stems must be harvested quickly or they may fall to the ground.

Flavor and outside appearance, of fruit from slightly frosted stems, are just as good as fruit untouched by the frost, according to the research findings. The State Standardization Law recognizes that these fruit are just as edible and flavorful as those untouched. The only apparent result on slightly affected fruit is that a few fibres may stand out more than usual. Apparently the high, natural oil content of the fruit itself saved it the fate that befell so many of the fruit stems the Calavo manager states.

venting the growth and development of our community. That specter is old man "First Impression" and he has done more to hold back the growth of Sierra Madre than any other local agency because he has settled back in a disconsolate attitude that is reflected in the old time adage "let George do it."

Why clean up the town?—"Let George do it." The old shacks are good enough. If newcomers are looking for modern homes, "Let George build them." If our main thoroughfare needs brightening up to impress the visitor that here at last is a progressive city—"let George paint the buildings and plant the trees."

Selling a community to the outside world, is exactly the same as successfully merchandising a new product. In the first place, a product must be styled right, built right and sold right. Just so with a city. It must first be styled right, then be built right and then sold right.

Here is the rub. We have something real to sell in Sierra Madre. Not just a healthful climate, not just an ideal place for sick people but a natural Garden of Eden which is an ideal place for those families of moderate means who have children and wish a clean, safe community to bring them up in. There has been too much stress laid in the past on the curative qualities of our mountain air as a means of attracting persons suffering from various throat and lung afflictions.

The Planner's Dream

---or is it

By MARY WARD

WE'LL plant the red hibiscus

And fragrant orange trees,

And flaming eucalyptus; . . .

Let the roadsides glow with these;

With branches set with coral,

Where every clustered star

Will gaily flaunt the colors

Of rose to cinnabar.

We'll plant blue jacarandas

And acacias with their gold;

But of flowering eucalyptus,

Its charm cannot be told.

Let's plant the rich magnolias

With their cups of creamy bloom;

And arbors of wistaria

With its haunting faint perfume.

Flamboyant tints shall splash her gown

Where Sierra Madre paints the town.

"Vicious Dogs' 'On Baldwin Estate Is A Pekingese

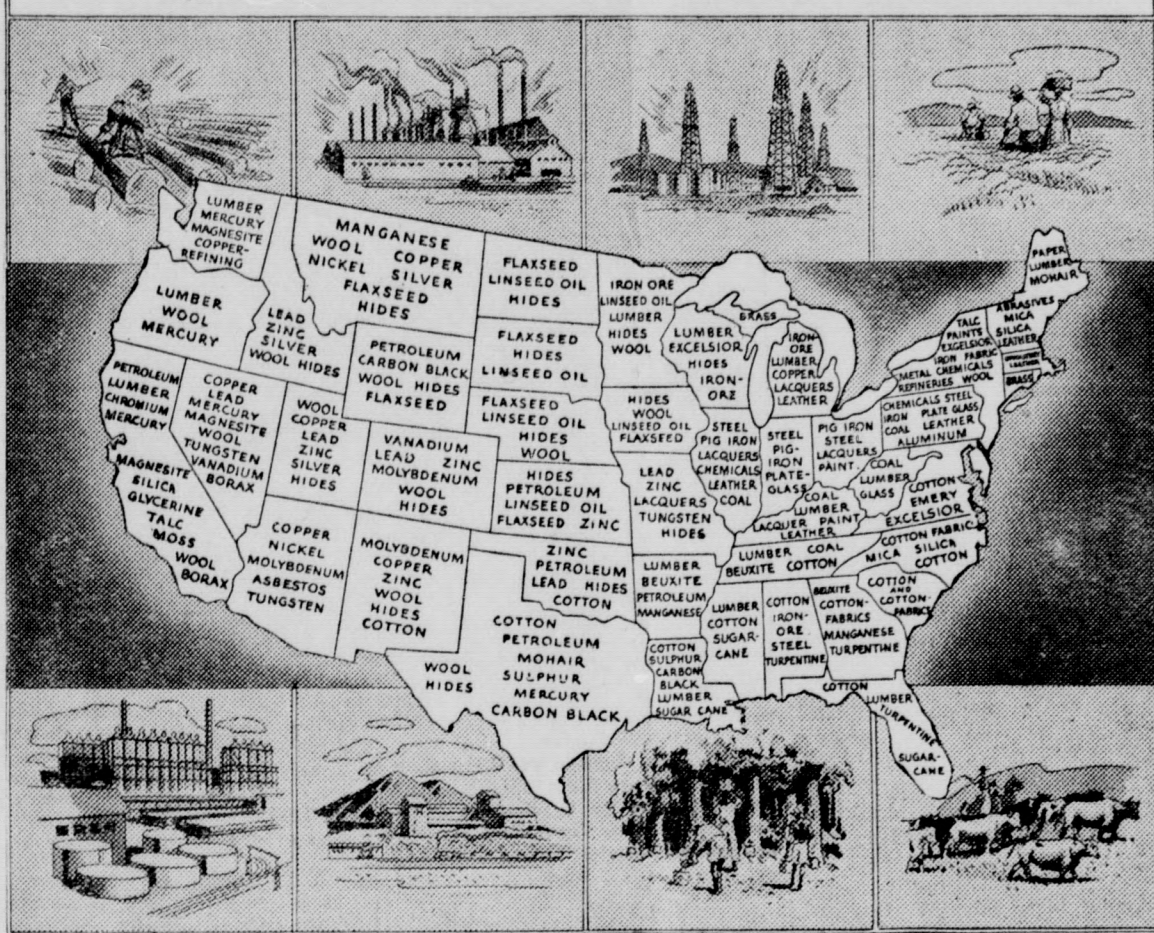

Passers-by have long wondered about those "Dogs Are Vicious—Beware" signs strung up around the Anita Baldwin estate at the corner of Foothill boulevard and Baldwin avenue. The signs, plus the 6-foot wire fence which, according to still more signs, is electrically wired, have long given the heavily timbered estate a mysterious and slightly melodramatic air. Strange tales have passed from mouth to mouth. What goes on behind that grim fence, those curt Stay Out signs? This week all was revealed.

Passing the Baldwin avenue gates of the estate the other day, the writer observed the ornate grillwork, the heavy electric wiring and the forbidding Beware of the Dogs sign.

Inside the gate, his ears flapping disconsolately, his body quivering with suppressed fury, was a yapping Pekingese!

The Baldwin secret is out. The identity of the "vicious" dogs—for years a subject to be conjured with in hushed tones—is no longer a secret...

AUTOMOBILE STRIKES AFFECT EVERY STATE IN THE UNION

The automobile industry is one of America's largest buyers of raw materials and manufactured products. The map above shows a few of the principal products bought by motor manufacturers in each of the 48 states, at a total cost for 1936 estimated at more than $1,600,000,000. Significant as this is in indicating the nation-wide effects of a strike, it is far from complete. Another map might show, state by state, the thousands of dealers and salesmen directly affected. There is no way to picture indirect losses in retail sales and in government revenue through reduced taxes and increased relief.

Veterans Honor The Late "Chick" Sale

A poem dedicated to the memory of the late Charles "Chick" Sale, has been penned by Jack Mitchell, bard and historian of Sierra Madre Post No. 297, American Legion, and now staying at the Veterans Hospital in San Fernando.

Written in behalf of Mitchell's fellow veterans, four original copies of the poem were sent to Joe E. Brown for presentation to Mrs. Sale. Three of the copies were presented to the beloved character-actor's wife, the fourth being framed and hung in the Masquers Club, Hollywood.

Mitchell, in sending a copy of his poem to THE NEWS, writes: "Sale was sick when he came here with Joe E. Brown and Pat O'Brien October 29 to entertain us at a Halloween performance. He insisted on going ahead with his act, and the last appearance he made on any stage was at our plant theatre here, where he delineated the character of Lincoln in that inimitable skill which was his."

A.L.A. Activities

Celebrating the birthday of the Unit after our business was disposed of, leaders of other organizations here joined Auxiliary members last evening. Among those present were past-presidents and charter members. Hostesses for the party were Mesdames Norman Jensen, Val Miller, R. H. Pickett, G. R. Lovejoy and Miss Minnie Stinman.

Invited to help us celebrate were Mrs. W. J. Lawless, Mrs. Al S. Myers, Mrs. Gladys K. Albright, Miss Louise Judson, E. D. Robertson, John H. Ort and Mrs. Alice Hogan, Eastern Star head.

A presidents' and secretaries' conference will convene in Claremont Monday, February 15th at 8 p.m. National Defense chairmen will be guests. A special program has been planned for them.

Frank G. Martin, Assemblyman of the 48th assembly district, spoke over the regular broadcast over station KGFJ, Sunday, February 7th, at 5 p.m.

JUNIOR NEWS

Mrs. Esther Penn Gregory presented the citation to President May Lou Lovejoy Saturday afternoon, when she also spoke on "Junior Activities." For loyal and efficient service in compiling a junior history, the citation will be framed and kept always. In presenting it Mrs. Gregory said in part, "May this serve as an inspiration to do even better this year, widening your field of service, and remembering to do honor to your mother and father for this your heritage."

Plans for a pot-luck supper to be held February 19th were made. Invitations were sent several guests throughout the district.

Marjorie Pickett read her definition of National Defense, calling attention to National Defense Week, from February 12 to February 22nd.

Memory Garden Starts With Contributions

Contributions to the newly-created "Memory Garden" at Scenic Point have already been made by many prominent Sierra Madre and Pasadena residents, the Wistaria Association announced yesterday.

Mrs. Alice Brugman, former owner of Scenic Point, who planted the Wistaria Vine, and her daughters, Mrs. Emily Childs and Mrs. Vaga Roberts, are contributing jacaranda trees. Mrs. Brugman celebrated her 81st birthday anniversary February 2. She was sent a congratulatory telegram by the Wistaria Association.

A. N. Carter is donating a buckeye tree; Mrs. Edith Kenney and Mrs. Grace Calkin, wistaria trees. Mrs. R. L. Webster, a baugimia tree, and Mrs. C. A. Allen, two Kentia palms.

Karl Hart of Sierra Madre Villa is offering rock roses, a bird of paradise and a dodeca tree, and T. M. Carson, a flowering tree.

The first cash donation towards the garden was received from Miss Anna L. Whitehead. A number of other cash donations also have been received.

Sierra Madreans Get Word From Flood Stricken Area

First-hand news from the mid-west flood sector was received yesterday by Mrs. V. D. Ihrig, a nurse at the office of Dr. G. W. Groth.

The letter, from Mrs. Ihrig's "folks" in Indiana, contained news of her nephew, Lewis Lohr, radio technician with the Indiana State Police.

Lohr has been working out of Jeffersonville, Ind., one of the most severely hit cities in the entire Ohio river valley, setting up radio amplifiers. These are placed at strategic points throughout the stricken area and used to direct relief operations.

During the last week he managed to get only 18 hours sleep, the latter said.

THREE STATES WILL HOLD THEIR PICNICS

ANGEL FOOD —ANY FOOD

GAS COOKS BETTER AND COSTS LESS

Small wonder that it's known as "angel" food when it's baked in a modern gas range! The necessary low temperature is simple with the 1937 models. Just set the control. The range will see to it that the proper temperature is maintained till the cake is done—golden brown on the outside, white and fluffy within!

What's more, with the new gas ranges there are as many opportunities for delicious dishes as there are foods on the market! From low temperatures for certain kinds of cakes and for waterless cooking of vegetables—to high for roasting and broiling. Live heat—greater range of temperatures—greater speed—far lower cost—you have all these!

Don't wait longer to inspect the many conveniences and economies afforded by the new gas ranges. The latest models are now on display at your appliance dealer's or your gas company.

Cities May Join To Save Water Rights

Sierra Madre And Arcadia To Consider Joint Ownership Of Santa Anita Line

A conference with Arcadia city officials will likely be the next step in negotiations looking towards a solution of the water allocation problem which involves possible loss to Sierra Madre of four cubic feet of running water per second and 2000 acre feet per annum from Big Santa Anita Canyon.

This was revealed yesterday by city officials here. No definite date for the conference has been set, however.

Officials pointed out it might be possible to get the Federal government to put up 55 per cent of the cost of a pipe line between the canyon dam and Sierra Madre. Total cost of the pipe line is estimated at $75,000. But even should the financial question be ironed out, there remains the question of securing a right-of-way through the Oakmont subdivision, which lies directly across the path of the proposed pipe line.

Officials continued to remain skeptical whether the right-of-way would be granted.

GAS THIEF AT WORK

Theft of five gallons of gasoline from her car, which was parked in front of her house all night Monday, was reported to police by Mrs. L. G. Street, 145 Grove street.

Shave Costs $10 In Desert Town

She really doesn't need a rope to get her man, but Betty Leach, pretty captain of India's feminine Whiskerino Vigilantes, refuses to take chances with smooth-shaven men. Platt Williams, the rope-encircled hombre, has violated the edict that all Coachella Valley men must grow beards to create the proper atmosphere for the first annual Stampede and Desert Rodeo, to be held in Indio, Feb. 13-14. Jim Bunnell, bearded member of the Vigilantes, stands by ready to take the violator into kangaroo court.

Hoepfel's Latest Court Move Proves Failure

Petitions for a writ of habeas corpus, the latest in a long series of moves by Charles J. Hoepfel to escape serving sentence for conspiring to sell a West Point appointment, was denied by Judge R. W. Pollard in Federal District Court at Alexandria, Va., this week.

Hoepfel, convicted with his father, John H. Hoepfel, based his plea on the contention that a woman member of the District of Columbia jury which convicted him was not a resident of the district and not eligible to serve on the jury. His attorney was given 15 days in which to file an amended petition.

Shippey Tells The World About The Girl In His Book

Sierra Madreans and the Pacific Coast generally heard Lee Shippey discuss his new book, "The Girl Who Wanted Experience," over an NBC network at 5:30 Sunday. The broadcast went out from KPO in San Francisco and was released locally through KECA.

Shippey again affirmed that he hasn't put any Sierra Madreans in the book. At this, plenty of local listeners smiled slyly.

He revealed the newspaper man in the book is based pretty much on himself. After this admission, Sierra Madreans, who have already read the story and recall the editor's penchant for sending in scandal stories to the metropolitan papers, are going to watch their steps from now on.

You never can tell.

Red Cross Chapter Elects New Set Of Officers

Mrs. C. W. Bowen was elected chairman to succeed Mrs. Edna Holland at a special meeting of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross on Monday.

Marian L. Vannier was elected first vice-chairman; Mrs. M. J. Welsher, second vice-chairman; C. W. Jones, treasurer, and Louise Judson, executive secretary.

Directorate and committee chairmen will be announced later, following a meeting of the executive committee.

Conservation Week Set For March 7-14

Governor Merriam Stresses Importance Of Protecting Forests, Streams

Sounding a call to arms to all nature lovers, Gov. Frank P. Merriam yesterday proclaimed the week of March 7-14 as Conservation Week.

"It is of great import that we use and protect our natural resources, our beautiful forests and other native flora, our wild life, streams, lakes and seashore, in such a way as to preserve their value and beauty," the governor said. "We must prevent forest fires, soil erosion, and the depletion of water resources. Public opinion must be mobilized. It is fitting that the period beginning March 7, Luther Burbank's birthday, which is California's Conservation, Bird and Arbor Day, should be set aside as Conservation Week. I request all interested departments, organizations, agencies, groups and individuals and particularly the schools of the state, to recognize and encourage the observance of Conservation Week."

The program of the California Conservation Council, which includes among its members many agencies directly in touch with the needs of the states, includes the following points of general interest:

Correlation of conservation activities; furtherance of education of conservation; increasing recreational opportunities by means of publicly-owned parks, forests, refuges, as well as providing wilderness areas from which man may be excluded; encouraging reforestation and pest control; preservation of native plants of all kinds; fire prevention; development and conservation of water resources; development of work of soil conservation and use of submarginal lands; protection of wild life and life of the waters; protection of beaches, and enforcement of conservation laws and passage of better ones.

BIG DAY FOR IOWANS

The biggest event of the year for the Iowans in California is the mammoth picnic reunion to be held all day Saturday, February 27th in Lincoln Park, Los Angeles. If rainy that date the picnic goes over one week to March 6th. A large section of the park is laid out to conform to the home state and the counties are all placed as on the map for registration and meeting friends.

Stop Your Cars for School Buses!

Motorists either meeting or overtaking a school bus halted on any highway outside of a business or residence district to load or unload pupils must come to a full stop and then proceed not faster than ten miles an hour for a reasonable distance, warns the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. That's the State law, to which attention is called because complaints are continually received from various districts of children's lives being endangered by violators. Such negligence frequently has tragic consequences. Penalties range from a fine not exceeding $50 or imprisonment not over ten days in the county jail for the first offense to double for a second offense within a year, and a fine up to $500, imprisonment up to six months, or both, for a third offense. The automobile club urges drivers to guard against these hazards to children.

PTA Founders Day Program February 18

Local Artists And Past-Presidents To Participate—Kids Show Today

The rapidly-approaching Founders Day program to be presented by the Sierra Madre P.T.A. is being given its final touches for the big day, Thursday, February 18 at 2:30 p.m. February 25th was previously announced—disregard that date.

This occasion will serve to honor all Past Presidents, far and near. The committee has been most zealous in endeavoring to reach everyone, but it seems some addresses have been mislaid during the past years, making it impossible to contact several past presidents. In this event the P.T.A. wishes those persons not reached to consider themselves most cordially invited.

Mrs. H. Randolph Wood will sing a number of solos; Miss Lalla Fagge will entertain with her violin, and Miss Moreland Kortkamp will be at the piano. Mrs. Lee Shippey and the mothers of the chorus have expended much time upon this program.

And this is the day, believe it or not, February 12, 3 p.m., when Billy Barty will walk across the boards of the Sierra Madre stage. His sisters, Dolores and Evelyn, are included on the bill. Besides their singing and dancing numbers, they intend to show a picture: "Trailing the Killer."

Oh, no, it isn't what you think it is at all, but a splendid picture about man's best friend, the dog.

Mildred C. Bolms.

Added Racing Day Yields $40,000 For Flood Sufferers

Twelve thousand fans poured a total of $409,808 through the pari-mutuels at Santa Anita Park Monday to aid the Red Cross flood relief fund. Six per cent of the "take," plus "breakage," is counted as profit.

The full net return from the day's wagering, together with profits from gate receipts, income from concessions and donations of the day's pay to employees, was turned over to the Red Cross.

Horsemen at Santa Anita voluntarily contributed $3500 to the Red Cross, the Turf Club starting the list with $1000.

Fade-Out Of Smudge Seems Closer Thru Co-operation

Definite action against the old fashioned type of smudge pots, which researchers declare lower rather than raise temperatures in citrus groves by shutting out the sunlight with clouds of dense oil smoke, was voted by the county board of supervisors Tuesday.

The board will confer with representatives of the citrus industry and the orchards heating improvement committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to draft an order to ban open pots and replace them with modern smudgeless heaters.

Mothers Of Sierra Madre Lead In PTA Pasadena Affair

Parent-Teacher Association of Wilson Junior high school and Willard elementary school were joint hostesses to the Pasadena Parent-Teacher Association Council meeting Monday in Willard Auditorium.

Commencing with the flag salute, the morning program included a business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Jay B. Rinehart, president. A pageant, "Founders' Day," directed by Mrs. Waverly E. Pratt and presented by Wilson mothers, depicted the essentials and ideals for enriching the life of the child and the Nation.

The pageant opened with Dorothy Parmenter and Patsy Reid, students, dancing the minuet. The various ideals were portrayed by the following mothers: Mrs. H. B. Hersey, history; Mrs. John Spoelstra, home life; Mrs. J. D. Goss, health; Mrs. C. Trycross, learning; Mrs. P. E. Nailor, vocational guidance; Mrs. A. R. Phermabucq, leisure; Mrs. A. R. Henry, citizenship; Mrs. H. Clay Reavis, spiritual training; and Mrs. Pratt, world peace.

Throughout the program, special attention was given to the fact that 1937 marks the fortieth anniversary of the National Parent-Teacher Association, which was started by Mrs. Alice Merne and Mrs. Phoebe Hearst in 1897.

GOSSARDS BUILD LOVELY HOME

A beautiful new home is now under construction for Dr. and Mrs. J. Earl Gossard at 625 West Mariposa avenue, by J. Shelton Gordon, builder, of 3420 East Foothill Blvd.

The house is of a modified early American architecture with a pronounced California adaptation. Located in a setting of oaks, sycamores and deodars, the new residence is certain to be one of the most attractive homes of its type in this city when completed.

According to Mr. Gordon, Wolmanized lumber is being used for the sills, girders, post and joists. The frame work of the house is of rigid construction, the best structural lumber obtainable being used. It will be an all electric home and when completed will contain many new and modern features.

Mr. Gordon recently completed the construction of an attractive modified Colonial home for Miss Emma Jameson at 440 West Montecito avenue.

Churches To Observe Lent At Services

Beginning of the Lenten period was observed here this week with Ash Wednesday services at St. Rita's Church and at Church of the Ascension.

Scores of devout Catholics attended the Blessing of the Ashes at St. Rita's Wednesday morning, returning again for the sermon and distribution of the ashes that evening.

In prayer and meditation members of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal faiths for 40 days will commemorate Christ's retreat into the desert. The period of penance having been accomplished, Christians will, on Easter Sunday, hail the Risen Christ.

Evening devotions are to be held at St. Rita's each Tuesday, when recitation of the rosary, a sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament are prescribed, and each Friday, when the Stations of the Cross are to be recited. Children's Stations will be held at 3 p.m. and those for adults at 7:45 p.m. The Tuesday sermons will be delivered by Fathers from Mater Dolorosa Monastery.

At Church of the Ascension Dean Arnold G. Bode officiated at a morning Ash Wednesday service. Holy Communion services will be held at the church Wednesday mornings at 7:30 o'clock and Thursday mornings at 10 o'clock throughout Lent.

A special feature of the Lenten period at the Church of the Ascension will be a church family box supper each Thursday from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., to be followed by a short musical service devoted to the learning of modern hymns from the new hymnal.

During Lent Fathers at Mater Dolorosa Monastery will engage in a series of missions which will take them as far away as Salt Lake City, San Francisco and San Diego. Missions will be given at El Monte, Long Beach, Pasadena and Los Angeles. Spanish missions will be given by Father Isadore, C.P. and Father Casimir, C.P.

The Lenten period will be climaxed by Tre Ore devotions on Good Friday, in the public chapel.

Women Told Of Assembly Acts

with a wide variety of subjects, including old age pensions, shorter hours and higher wages for labor, care of the blind, unemployment relief, the better youth movement, slum clearance, better protection for the workingman, Huntington Beach oil lands and extension of the mortgage moratorium.

One of the bills will do away with the state placing a lien on property of persons applying for old age pensions, will remove the pauper's oath and will provide more liberal allowances. The latter provision, he pointed out, will naturally bear more heavily on the taxpayers.

Mr. Martin emphasized his wholehearted support of bills that would give young people "a chance to work." He pointed out he was co-author of a bill for state slum clearance, and that he introduced the bill extending the moratorium on delinquent taxes.

He asserted the state will spend $48,000,000 for unemployment relief during the next two years.

The "in lieu" tax on automobiles, he said, has already been extended for two years, with the county getting 40 per cent of the collected taxes.

Looking to the future, the Assemblyman said the legislature already boasts nine potential candidates for governor, seven Republicans and two Democrats. That they have their eyes on the ballot box two years hence is demonstrated, he said, by the fact that three of the nine gentlemen are attempting to claim the credit for toll reductions on the new Oakland Bay bridge.

Opening his talk, Mr. Martin paid a gracious tribute to Sierra Madre's "friendly atmosphere," declared the city's writers and artists were a "rich asset" and complimented Mrs. W. J. Lawless, presiding chairman, for her efforts towards maintaining the continuity of the Wistaria Fetes.

Preceding Mr. Martin's talk, Alfred James Dewey outlined prospects for a future art center at the "Old Adobe" studio. The idea, he said, would be to have a permanent gallery alongside and "Old Adobe," with shops and studios as an adjunct, following out the lines of the present Padua Hills setup. Rents from the shops and studios would make the gallery self-supporting, he said. Suggesting an art school be included in the project, Mr. Dewey quoted a representative of the Stickney School in Pasadena who described Sierra Madre as "the most logical place outside Los Angeles for an art school."

STRONG CAST PRESENTS MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL

In the Pasadena Playhouse showing of "Murder in the Cathedral," the Pacific Coast premiere, Thomas Brown Henry adds a notable characterization as Becket, with important support from Hale McKeen, Earl Gunn, John Fedoruk, Lee Powell, Frederic Warriner and Maurice Copeland. The piece completes its Playhouse run on Saturday, February 20.

Picturesque Pack Trains To Be Only A Memory Soon

fering with his business and taking away customers from the Orchard Camp by misrepresentation. He then declared he would not permit Chantry's animals on his land except on payment of a toll fee of $1 per head. Subsequently, he "confiscated" several of Chantry's burros. The case went to court—and a good time was had by all.

Time passed. The townspeople, smitten doubtless with budding civic pride, decided there "oughta be a law." They didn't like the idea of burro trains tramping up and down the streets at all hours of the day and night, and they particularly didn't like the offensive burro corals being located right down in the heart of town. Besides they didn't smell so good—and bred flies. So they had the city trustees pass an ordinance excluding burro corals within the residence district.

The ordinance, however, didn't set well with John Boyd. His corals on Mountain Trail avenue were doing a thriving business and he wasn't going to give up without a fight. So he sought an injunction against the enforcement of the ordinance.

The case dragged along for months through a series of demurrers, replies and cross-complaints. Finally, on February 20, 1916, Judge Charles Wellburn handed down a decision against Boyd which, once and for all, ousted the corals from locations along Mountain Trail avenue at the end of the car line and compelled them to seek locations near the foot of the mountains or in the "prescribed" business district. The judge argued a corral where burros were kept for hire was nothing more nor less than "a livery stable with the roof off."

The following day the city trustees confined the burro corals to the foot of the Wilson Trail.

Commenting on the trustees' action, the NEWS declared: "After being chased over the landscape for a period of seven years, the dove of peace seems about to eat out of the hands of the various parties to the fight over the burro corral problems."

Opening the new Mt. Wilson hotel in 1915 and the opening of the toll road to the general public sounded the initial death knell for the pack trains.

At the time the statement was made that "most people will still prefer the pack trail" rather than the (implied) new-fangled toll road, with its "fast" busses, but this was just so much whistling down the wind.

Other roads were soon opened, and such resorts as Mt. Baldy, Big Pines, Arrowhead and Big Bear attracted more and more business away from camps in the local area as high gear roads were opened into the mountains and it was possible to drive into the hills and camp without hiking.

The building of the high-gear extension of Double Drive on the east and the Angeles Crest highway on the west marked the end of the cycle.

Today a cluster of abandoned stores and stables at the foot of the old Wilson Trail are mute evidence of Sierra Madre's "wild west" days.

Over at Mrs. Corum's place a high board fence, which the new owner has built right across the mouth of the canyon, writes finis to the whole period as plainly as if the word was painted across the freshly-cut boards in letters six feet high.

Value Of Good, Early Training Stressed At Kiwanis Club

Dennis H. Stovall, newspaper writer and one of the city's early Scout leaders, was guest speaker at Tuesday's noon meeting of Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club.

Observing National Boy Scout Week, Stovall stressed the importance of the Boy Scout oath and code of ethics in later life, and discussed the value of the Scout movement in providing better citizens through training and character development.

Local Kiwanians will attend a division meeting at Pomona next Tuesday, February 16.

Singing Cascade of Death Valley

Sparkling mineral water—45 inches—running to waste in a region where thirst has killed hundreds, traced by Automobile Club of Southern California scouts. It originates in a thermal spring at the base of the Amargosa Range six miles north of Furnace Creek and the Inn and leaps nearly 100 feet. Formerly big horn sheep wore trails to it, now wild burros haunt it, while tourists are just appearing.

SWITCH TO ELECTRIC COOKERY

TO AVOID WASTE AND TO Save Money

* Until you actually own an electric range, you don't realize how much you wasted under the old cooking method. Biggest item of all was food shrinkage—15% to 20% loss every meal you cooked. The wholesome electric oven avoids this waste. Its precision control prevents cooking failures, too—guarantees perfect results every time. The modern electric range is economical to buy and operate. It represents the next big step toward your All-Electric Kitchen. See the new electric range models at your dealer today.

Stop Your Cars for School Buses!

Motorists either meeting or overtaking a school bus halted on any highway outside of a business or residence district to load or unload pupils must come to a full stop and then proceed not faster than ten miles an hour for a reasonable distance, warns the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. That's the State law, to which attention is called because complaints are continually received from various districts of children's lives being endangered by violators. Such negligence frequently has tragic consequences. Penalties range from a fine not exceeding $50 or imprisonment not over ten days in the county jail for the first offense to double for a second offense within a year, and a fine up to $500, imprisonment up to six months, or both, for a third offense. The automobile club urges drivers to guard against these hazards to children.

ANGEL FOOD ANY FOOD

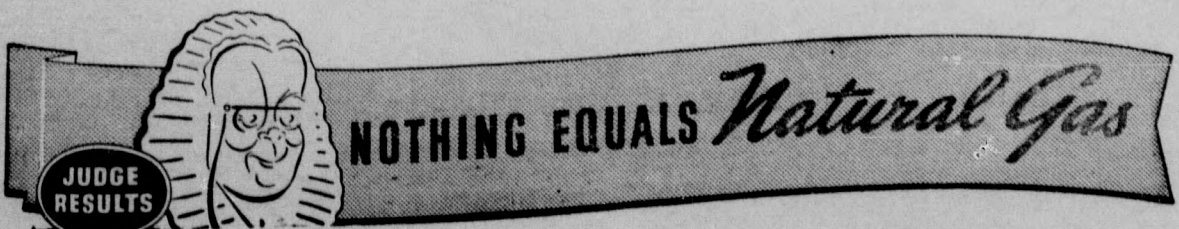

GAS COOKS BETTER AND COSTS LESS

Small wonder that it's known as "angel" food when it's baked in a modern gas range! The necessary low temperature is simple with the 1937 models. Just set the control. The range will see to it that the proper temperature is maintained till the cake is done—golden brown on the outside, white and fluffy within!

What's more, with the new gas ranges there are as many opportunities for delicious dishes as there are foods on the market! From low temperatures for certain kinds of cakes and for waterless cooking of vegetables—to high for roasting and broiling. Live heat—greater range of temperatures—greater speed—far lower cost—you have all these!

Don't wait longer to inspect the many conveniences and economies afforded by the new gas ranges. The latest models are now on display at your appliance dealer's or your gas company.

Added Racing Day Yields $40,000 For Flood Sufferers

Twelve thousand fans poured a total of $409,808 through the pari-mutuels at Santa Anita Park Monday to aid the Red Cross flood relief fund. Six per cent of the "take," plus "breakage," is counted as profit.

The full net return from the day's wagering, together with profits from gate receipts, income from concessions and donations of the day's pay to employees, was turned over to the Red Cross.

Horsemen at Santa Anita voluntarily contributed $3500 to the Red Cross, the Turf Club starting the list with $1000.

Fade-Out Of Smudge Seems Closer Thru Co-operation

Definite action against the old fashioned type of smudge pots, which researchers declare lower rather than raise temperatures in citrus groves by shutting out the sunlight with clouds of dense oily smoke, was voted by the county board of supervisors Tuesday. The board will confer with representatives of the citrus industry and the orchards heating improvement committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to draft an order to ban open pots and replace them with modern smudgeless heaters.

STREAMLINE TRAINS
INCREASE DANGER

About 1,500 persons die each year as a result of railroad grade crossing accidents, states the Public Safety Council. In these days of streamlined trains, motorists must be more careful than ever at railroad crossings. Always approach crossings with caution. Slow down so that you will be able to stop within a short distance, in case this is necessary. It's also a good plan to shift into second gear before crossing. This will help prevent possible stalling of the engine, and at the same time give you plenty of power to get across.

The annual picnic reunion of the Idahoans in Southern California will be held all day, Sunday, February 21st, in Sycamore Grove Park.

The Montana State Society will hold its annual picnic reunion Monday, February 22nd at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

Allen-Neale
Realty Firms
Consolidated

Announcement was made yesterday of the consolidation of the real estate and insurance businesses of City Judge Tom W. Neale and Mrs. Cecily A. Allen. The consolidation became effective at noon and transfers Mrs. Allen's real estate and insurance business to Judge Neale, who will continue to operate the consolidated business at 86 West Sierra Madre Blvd. opposite the City Hall.

In announcing the sale of her business to Judge Neale Mrs. Allen said yesterday it is probable she will enter a more specialized type of business in the future, along the line of property development.

"Judge Neale needs no recommendation as a real estate and insurance man will carry on the business with his customary efficiency," Mrs. Allen said.

By Tom W. Neale

Effective this date I have bought and assumed control of the real estate and insurance business heretofore conducted by Mrs. C. A. Allen at 18 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, adding to my strong list of insurance agencies the biggest and most reliable of the great companies until now represented in this community by Mrs. Allen.

I have assumed personal charge of and will devote my entire time and attention to the insurance feature of the consolidated business, so that my clients--new and old--will have the benefit of my long experience in writing all kinds of insurance. It will be a major feature of the business--not a sideline.

I have appointed Mr. Joe T. Russell to take charge of the real estate and rental departments and he will specialize in this particular line, giving our clients the benefit of his knowledge of local real estate values. He will be glad to list your property and has many inquiries for homes here.

Better let me inquire into your insurance coverage and needs and advise you... No obligation on your part.
